PROJECT PRINCIPAL

INTRODUCTION

A strategic engineer and site manager tasked with leading signature initiatives to optimize productivity and accelerate project delivery. I manage medium- to large-scale projects by directing budgets, controlling scope, and overseeing all site responsibilities. My efforts are geared toward fulfilling critical market demand and expanding the company into an international firm.

An A-Class Strategic Architectural Engineer who rapidly ascended from a trainee role to a vital office asset, earning a one-year contract based on demonstrated ability to run the entire consultancy office and produce outstanding design work. With a proven track record of independently directing all technical functions, this self-sufficient and budget-oriented leader developed and implemented the signature "Half/Double Strategy," which consistently reduces timelines by half and doubles productivity and quality. Designated as a key engineer and selected by engineering management to lead this signature strategy, this professional has been assigned project management responsibilities and directed L-scale projects, assuring market outstanding value for the firm. This leadership directly contributed to the firm's international market positioning and investment capture, demonstrating a strategic vision and flawless execution of owner's foundational goals.
